Subject: update

I've been given a rough draft of the press release from our press office which I am going to review and edit and get input from the program and once our edits are done, I'm going to share it with you for your input before we send it back to the press office. Should be getting it to your tomorrow morning. We've decided that we're going to do a fact sheet in addition to the press release instead of FAQs. The fact sheet hasn't been drafted yet. I will call you a little later.
